

Grammy-nominated storyteller
Sharon Kennedy

presents

An evening with Nora Joyce, wife of James Joyce

“Storyteller Sharon Kennedy transports her audience to another time and place.”
—The Boston Herald

“Sharon doesn’t just tell stories, she becomes them.”
—ABC-TV’s Good Morning America

“Kennedy consistently delights audiences....She can turn a word into a thousand pictures....The program was spellbinding.”
—The Boston Globe

“She tells stories better than anyone we know.”
—WBZ-TV

“The material was a bit scandalous for our 126-year-old club, but she is a great actress and all of our members and invited guests loved it.”
—Prof. Edward Clark, President,
The Reading Club of West Medford

In this new hour-long program for adults,* you’ll see Nora...

- read from Finnegan’s Wake
- kick up her heels and sing an Irish drinking song
- act out Molly Bloom (patterned after herself) from Ulysses
- reveal secrets of her girlhood in Galway
- read from Joyce’s love letters to her
- and describe her first sexual encounter with Joyce down on the docks in Dublin.

*THIS SHOW IS ONLY APPROPRIATE FOR AUDIENCES OVER 18

APPEARING AT:

